

Miss Olive Davis and Sam Hawkins Wed at Dallas; Will Live at Eastland

By OLLIE P. LANSDEN.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the marriage of Miss Olive Davis, of Dallas, Tex., and Sam Hawkins, of Eastland, Miss., was made here. Both are El Pasoans. The wedding occurred at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at Hotel Adolphus and the couple was attended by the bride's brother, Leland Davis and by Mr. Hawkins' sister, Mrs. George McQuinn, of Dallas. W. B. Hawkins, of this city, brother of Mr. Hawkins, was also present for the wedding. The bride was attractively gowned for the wedding service in a gown of black and white with a high collar and long sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. Immediately after the ceremony, a dinner was served the wedding party at Hotel Adolphus. Mrs. Hawkins is one of the three attractive daughters of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Davis. The other daughters are Mrs. Lee Orloff and Miss Hazel Davis. The bride has been visiting her brother, Leland Davis, who has been manager of a department of

The New Fur Coats Are Short.

By GERTRUDE BERNARD.

MANY of the fur coats show short, youthful length illustrated. With the price of peltry soaring, small wonder it is that the furriers introduce the shorter coat. This belted model is in seal skin with a deep shawl collar and cuffs of squirrel. A smart hat of velvet is worn with this coat, and the gown of blue serge is embroidered in gray.

Thursday's Calendar Of Social Events

THE Guild of the Lutheran church, the women's auxiliary to the church, will meet at the church parsonage with Mrs. J. R. Grever on Thursday afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. George W. McCall will be hosts to the members of the congregation of Central Baptist church at their home, 806 Montana street, on Thursday evening.

Out of Town Visitors

M. D. Harp, of Gage, N. M., was an arrival at the Sheldon Tuesday.

Mrs. W. T. Crabtree, of York, Ark., registered at the McCoys Tuesday.

F. E. Hager, of State College, N. M., registered at the McCoys Tuesday.

Mr. J. A. Mahoney, leading merchant and banker of Deming, N. M., is a guest of the McCoys.

Robert Rae, general auditor of the Phelps-Dodge company, at Douglas, Ariz., is a guest of the McCoys.

A. M. Avant and W. M. Coughran, both of Marfa, Tex., registered at the McCoys Tuesday.

H. J. McGrath, livestock dealer, of Silver City, N. M., registered at the McCoys Tuesday.

D. S. Cavender, a cattleman of Hatch, N. M., and his wife were arrivals at the McCoys Tuesday.

Mrs. Margaret Chambers, of Atlanta, Texas, is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Williams at the Williams home on Williams street.

Mrs. M. M. Murphy, of Marfa, Texas, is the guest of her brother, H. A. Cernes and his family at their home in the lower valley. Mrs. Murphy came to visit her brother's family immediately upon receiving an announcement of his illness, he suffered when arrested a Mexican from across the river for smuggling.

Dinners and Luncheons.
The North Stevens street circle of Government Hill Baptist church will give a Mexican supper Thursday evening, September 25, on the church grounds at 10 o'clock. The arrangements are being made by Mrs. W. W. Donnell, Mrs. George Gorbett and Mrs. Brisco.

WATER IN EAR CAUSES DEATH.
Vincent, Ind., Sept. 24.—Water which entered his right ear while swimming in the pool at the Y. M. C. A. here brought death to Carl Plick, 15. The water caused an abscess of the ear and in turn developed into brain fever.

A Warning.
Statistics show that most persons who died of the influenza were subject to "bad" teeth. This year everyone is interested in doing all he can to prevent the much dreaded "come back." Our advice on how to start is to start taking better care of your teeth.

Every child should have his own toothbrush. Every mother should see that he uses it several times each day. We have a complete stock of all dental powders, pastes and mouth washes of merit. Do not wait till it is too late to start now. Boost this wonderful movement in the school by commencing at home.

Scott White & Co.—Druggists.
Mills Bldg. Roberts-Banner Bldg. 214 San Francisco St.—AGV.

Full Brides.
Full weddings are as much in vogue as June weddings. At least this seems true in El Paso. The full brides will be interested in the useful and beautiful gifts in our store. Hixson's Silver, Pickard China, Cordova Leather Goods and Cut Glass will delight her. And all the new designs in wedding rings are also shown here. Don't forget that Hixson's is the Gift House of the Southwest.

W. T. Wilson Co. Hardware Jewels, Mills and Moss on the Plaza—AGV.

To make money you must break the trail, not stay in proven fields. Unproven fields are where the possibilities lie. Ask for literature.

DETROIT OIL CORPORATION
Los Cruces, N. M.

Council of Mothers Meets and Plans an Intensive Campaign for Members

EL PASO Council of Mothers held a meeting on Monday afternoon in the auditorium of Morehead school. The principal purpose of discussion was the drive for new members for the Parent-Teachers' association. The president of the council, Mrs. J. G. McFadden, presided. Women appointed on the women's industry and child labor committee include Mrs. H. B. Stevenson, Mrs. N. Lapowski and Mrs. Richard Warren. Mrs. J. E. Benton, president of the Alta Vista Parent-Teachers' association, and Mrs. W. U. Daughdrill, president of the Parent-Teachers' association of Grand View school, gave talks on the work. The Council of Mothers is composed of the presidents of the various schools. The campaign for new members for the association will be featured with October 5 as the big day of the drive.

On account of the rain, the meeting which was to have been held during the first part of the week by the association will be postponed until Monday afternoon, September 23. It will be held at the home of the regent of the association, Mrs. J. G. McFadden, on Buena Vista street and the time will be 3:30 o'clock.

The missionary society of Asbury Methodist Episcopal church will hold a meeting Thursday afternoon in the church parlors at 4 o'clock. Mrs. P. D.

Warmed By Big Log Fires, Soldiers Enjoy An Evening Of Entertainment

IN spite of the rainy evening on Wednesday which caused the postponement of many meetings and entertainments, the program as scheduled for the Red Cross convalescent home at Fort Bliss took place. The program was given under the auspices of the young people of Westminster Presbyterian church and was under direct charge of Miss Coraella Taylor. Miss Myra Seymour and Miss Eva Seymour, of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, who are here for the winter, gave readings and musical selections and Mrs. William Waite gave a group of readings. The interior of the great recreation room was bright with log fires and a happy evening was enjoyed by a large number of men.

Parties.

There will be a meeting this evening at 7 o'clock at Westminster Pres-

First Concert Under Auspices of Woman's Club Arranged for Oct. 20

THE evening of October 20 has been designated as the time for the first concert of the season to be given under the auspices of the Woman's club. The artists who will give this concert include Rafaela Diaz, who is a member of the Metropolitan Grand Opera company, and the pianist is Oliver Denton. Both of these musicians have appeared in this city before.

El Pasoans Away.

Gene Smith, son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Smith, has returned to Austin to resume his studies in the University of Texas.

Miss Kathleen Allen, after spending her summer vacation in this city has returned to Austin to resume her studies at the state university.

Mrs. D. B. Board and daughter, Miss Dorothy, have left for Dallas. After a few days spent at Dallas they will go to Austin, where Miss Dorothy will enter the University of Texas.

Senator Ashurst Has Written A Diary Dealing With History Of The Times

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 24.—A book that describes intimately the official and personal life of a United States senator, throughout the war and the six or seven years preceding it, cannot fail to be a work of great interest now, and of constantly increasing value as time goes on.

Such a book, unknown to the public and even to many members of the senate, has been written—and is still being written—by senator Henry Fountain Ashurst, of Arizona. One of the younger members of the upper house of congress, and this sensational diary, which already fills two enormous volumes, is written in a bounding, thumping rhetorical style, full of color, energy and sentiment, and it is a volume which will probably be read in the future, not only because it contains historical data, but also because it is the deathless diary of Samuel Pepys. It is the picture of a man.

Senator Ashurst is extremely modest about his diary, and refuses flatly to be interviewed on the subject. He is said to have refused an offer of $15,000 for the manuscript, and to have no plans for publishing it. But he has allowed his friends to read the book, and the contents of it are facts about its origin and growth are pretty well known to a small circle.

Tells of Early Arizona.
Senator Ashurst spent his boyhood and youth in Arizona in the pioneer days. His diary is full of references to the early days of the territory, and he tells of the many hardships and dangers of the early days.

The senator's father lost his life while prospecting in the Grand Canyon, and the senator, then a very young man, was left an orphan.

During the war, the senator wrote about little except the war. His diary becomes a history of the war in Washington, with some very good character sketches of notables, and vivid descriptions of exciting days.

But the most interesting parts of the journal are the personal touches, which reveal the man.

For example, on Friday, September 13, 1918, the senator celebrates his forty-fourth birthday anniversary at a dinner party. Not only is it a very unkind day, as the senator gleefully points out to his guests, but the dinner is interrupted by the fact that he has written a letter to his name. When, in addition, it is discovered that there are thirteen people at the table, no less than six of those present show signs of being disturbed.

Two of them very seriously. And these two, the senator records, are "sophisticated, cultivated and successful people."

He's Right at That.
"There is indeed a wide gulf between the bright light of sanity and the shadows of distraction," he comments. "The world is a very narrow place. There is much in it that is not a fact. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on 'what to eat.'—Adv.

A Little Talk on Wooltex Tailor-Mades

A TAILOR-MADE is rarely purchased with only one season's wear in mind. Generally you expect to wear it at least two seasons.

So you want to be sure, above all things, of absolute quality and enduring style.

It will be welcome news to you that by buying Wooltex Tailor-Mades you need pay no more and yet obtain the most dependable, smartest styles.

Wooltex Tailor-Mades are of the finest woollens, created for us by the foremost weavers. The tailoring is perfect.

We are proud to be the only shop in this community where you can be sure of finding the Wooltex Tailor-Mades.

Style 3100—A comfortable Balboa Coat with charming style, and deep pockets out at the hip line. A touch of fur on the close fitting collar and the large fancy buttons are effective, giving this Coat apart as a Wooltex Tailor-Made style.

Style 3150—Notice the fur-trimmed collar and cuffs and the well set pockets. In the exclusive Wooltex collection you will find a more exclusive style than this of Dever de Laine.

Style 3200—This suit was inspiration for this suit of Wooltex, one of the most desirable of the exclusive Wooltex Tailor-Made collection we are now showing. Definitely new are the wide lapels and the odd cutting of the front panels.

Style 3250—Surely ticks never accomplished more effective trimming than on this Wooltex Tailor-Made Suit of Dever de Laine. The narrow bands of fur on collar and cuffs are likewise new, also the tucked back panel.

Style 3300—The fabric for this Wooltex Tailor-Made Coat has been newly created for us—soft and warm—without weight quality. One of the most exclusive of the Wooltex Tailor-Made styles for which we are representing in this community.

Wooltex Tailor-Mades designed and made by THE H. BLACK CO., Cleveland New York

THE WHITE HOUSE

California and kept his mouth shut. He would have been elected.

Hughes in 1916 and Dilling in 1918 were secure while within their own fortifications," he comments. "All they had to do was to wait for election day, think little, remain silent, and each would have been elected. To think but little and say nothing is the best advice I could give a presidential candidate."

On the day that Wilson was inaugurated for the first time, he said in some more presidential reflection. He says that Taft failed to hold his job because he allowed things to become dull, and that Roosevelt was a success as a president because he kept things lively. "Of all defects that hamper a president," he concludes, "the worst is that he is too deadly. Witness old John Adams, Tyler, Fillmore, Buchanan, Hayes, and Harrison."

A characteristic story is that of the day when Arizona was admitted to statehood. He begins by comparing the present day Arizona with that of pioneer days, showing what progress the state has made, but he runs off into a description of the desert.

"The desert has the racial and sanguineous people," he says. "The blossoming cactus, the pungent odor of wild sage," he writes, "trying to describe the fascination which the desert has for his mind. But the desert is cruel—her heated sands and scorching winds, her blinding and pitiless furnace of sun, her merciless hail of heat, her poisonous reptiles, her scarce and alkaline waters, her bitter dust, her deceptions and her everlasting barrenness of hope, are bringing awful thirst, confusion, exhaustion, delirium and death when the canteen leaks, the trail is lost, or the horse plays out."

"The Virgin Islanders have been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The inhabitants of the Virgin Islands even have aspirations that they may be allowed to have a vote in the House, just as the other territorial possessions of the United States have.

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."

The Virgin Islanders have never been given a real chance to grow prosperous, although there is ample opportunity for prosperity if they are given the proper encouragement by their government, and it is to meet this need that the congressmen are enthusiastic over the prospects of becoming real Americans. They are still living under the laws that were established under Danish rule. But now they want some real American laws enacted by congress."